CONDITIONAL PARDON ACT

Penitentiary Board Will Consider the Subject of a Change,

PRESENT LAW NOT EQUITABLE.

One Plan Suggested as a Remedy, Former Superintendent Gunn Will Answer Charges Made Against Them.

The Penitentiary Board, in its forthcoming annual report, will, it is undergood, deal with the question of a change in the Conditional Pardon act of the Legislature. The act provides that a conviet who has served half the term for which he was sentenced, and who has not been subjected to punishment for infraction of the rules, may make application for pardon, it has been contended by those who favor a change in the law that it does not operate equitable. bly. The contention may be illustrated. Promise of reward of freedom, for in-stance, is held out to a man who has just stance, is held out to a man who has just entered upon the service of a two-year sentence, inducement is offered him to observe the rules, so that at the end of a year he may apply for a pardon. On the other hand, there may be at his gide a long-term man, who began say ten years ago the service of a twenty-year sentence, and in all that time he may have observed the regulations. Yet, as the law now stands, he must be on his good behavior for one-half the time remaining unserved at the passage of the act. A hardship is thus imposed, in that the second man is on his mettle to behave well ond man is on his mettle to behave well three-fourths of his whole turm, whereas the first is under the necessity of ob-serving the rules only one-half of his term. One remedy suggested would have the act so changed as to take into account the conduct of the convicts during a period of from three to five years prior to the passage of the law. The extent of such period might be fixed to apply to all allice, or a graduated scale to corre-pond to varied terms of imprisonment might be incorporated into an amend-ment to the law. The Board's report will not be ready for some time yet. In the interval the con-ditional Pardon act will be considered, with a view to the recommendation of some changes that it is believed could and should be made. Its recommendation touching this subject will be one of the features of the report. WILL VINDICATE HIMSELF.

JAPAN SENSITIVE,

Over Russian Encroachments in Asia and Especially in Korea. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—The Asso-clated Press correspondent at Yokobama sends the following by the steamer Doric, nder date of October 21;

Judging from the tone of the native press in commenting upon the Masampho affair, it would not be at all difficult just now to arouse against Russia the latent war spirit which has been gathering force and depth ever since the retrocession of the Taru Ton Peninsula.

At every stage of the rapid progress of the naval programms signs of her grow-ing strength is affecting the nation, while at the same time the conviction that with completion of the Siberian railroad the hour for successful revenge will have passed, makes Japan morbidly sensitive at the news of any fresh encroachments of the Russians in Northeastern Asia, und especially in Korea.

Very little doubt exists now that some sort of understanding has been arrived at between Japan, China and Korea, The extraordinarily curt reply of the latter government to Russia's demand for the most an ultimatum, simply referred the supplicant to Japan for whatever arrangements were desired.
